Norway People Come Out as Frankly Here as Elsewhere

Norway people publicly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. This paper is publishing Norway cases from week to week. It is the same everywhere. Home testimony in home papers. Doan's are praised in fifty thousand signed statements, published in 3000 communities. Norway people are no exception. Here's a Norway Statement.

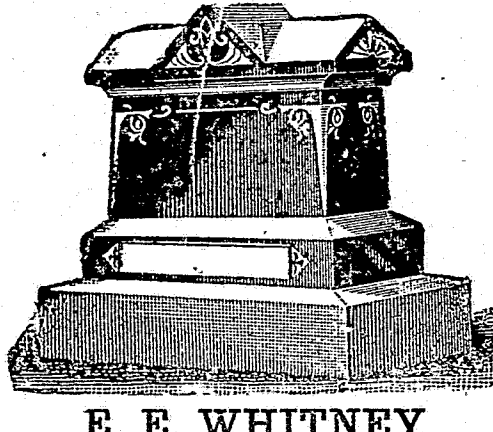

M. W. Sampson, prop., boat transportation business, 19 Bridge St., says: "It has been some time since I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, but from past experience I can recommend them to anyone in need of a good, reliable kidney medicine. A cold settled in my kidneys and brought on attacks of backache. I was lame and unable to move any way. The pain in my back was severe. My kidneys didn't act right and I had dizzy spells. A friend who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results advised me to try them so I went to Stone's Drug Store and got three boxes. After I had finished taking them the trouble left me and I have been free from kidney disorder ever since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Sampson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

A TRUE STORY
One of our good customers wanted a good, big storm blanket.

Somebody told him he couldn't get such a one in this town, so he sent to the city and got what he wanted and the price was ten dollars.

Next day he was in our place and saw the same thing and the price tag on it was marked $5.00.

We have a good many nice blankets of all kinds, Street Blankets, Storm Blankets, Stable Blankets

For some reason or other, they are marked way below present costs.

To The PEOPLE OF OXFORD COUNTY

Do you realize that more than two hundred patients from Oxford County are treated every year at the Central Maine General Hospital of Lewiston?

Do you know that it cost $82,000 to run this hospital last year?

Do you know that $17,000 of this amount was spent for those who could not pay any, or only in part?

Do you know that it takes two years and three months of hard work and study and an expenditure of $1,000 to graduate a nurse and that we have graduated 281 nurses since 1903 and 18 this past year?

HERE'S THE POINT

A public spirited man in Auburn has offered to build a nurses' home and when completed to present the same to the Central Maine General Hospital with this requirement—that we reduce the debt of $90,000 to $30,000.

Our hospital and equipment would cost to build at least $300,000. We have a fund that has been given to us by different people at different times that amounts to $48,000 and from this fund we get interest yearly.

Mr. A. B. Ricker of the Poland Springs and Mr. Fitz are out to raise $60,000, that the debt may be reduced by this amount, at the most inopportune time that could be selected.

The nurse and the hospital are inseparable. We must have both. The whole of the central part of Maine cannot get along without them.

The manufacturing interests of Oxford County are giving. We want the folks to give. We want you to give and no matter how little or how much. This is a critical period. We ask the store keepers and the business-men of the county to give, bearing in mind at all times that this is your hospital even if situated in another county.

$45,000 OF THE $60,000 HAS ALREADY BEEN PLEDGED

There is no sum set against your name to give. If you do not give at all the service is there for you and yours just the same. If you do give it will help that much to reduce the debt and thereby secure the nurses' home so much needed. Send your donations to

EAST SUMNEREighty-six Dollars Cleared

The sale and entertainment at the Grange hall, Friday afternoon and evening, was very successful. The food, party articles, aprons, candy, mystery packages, etc., found a ready sale, as the hall was besieged by eager buyers. The entertainment in the evening was much enjoyed. "Timothy Delano's Courtship" and "A Picked-up Dinner" caused much merriment. The music by E. H. Stetson on the piano, Clinton Bisbee on the violin, and Edward Berkeley on the cornet, was fine, and called out rounds of applause.

The sum of $86.25 was realized.

Cyrus Heald

The remains of Cyrus Heald were brought here, Saturday, from Oquossoc, where he had been living with his son, W. J. Heald. Mr. Heald was a native of this town and for many years lived here. Frank Snell, and Agnes Heald and one son, W. J. Heald.

Rev. Mr. Berkeley conducted the services at the funeral. E. H. Stetson sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Four of Mr. Heald's brother Masons were bearers. He was laid at rest in Elmwood cemetery near the home where he spent many years of his married life. One brother, Llewellyn B. Heald, survives him.

There was no preaching service at the church, Sunday, owing to the illness of Rev. Mr. Berkeley. The Sunday school was held at 10:30.

Among the people from out of town who attended Cyrus Heald's funeral were John Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Waite of Canton, Frank Souder of Livermore Falls, Mrs. Cleon Osgood of Rumford, Washburn, E. H. Stetson, W. J. Heald of Oquossoc, Mrs. Frank Snell of E. Machias, and Agnes Heald of Lewiston.

American Legion Headquarters Dedicated

Members of William Henry Stone Post American Legion of Norway and the public officially dedicated, Thursday, Jan. 20, the headquarters in the rooms, Main street, formerly occupied by the Atherton Furniture Co. Open house prevailed from early morning until midnight. Games, speeches, refreshments, dancing and good fellowship were in order during open time.

Patriotic decorations were everywhere and the Women's Relief Corps spared no pains to make the lodge room attractive with the national colors. One end of the room was separated by a curtain of red and white streamers, various kinds of refreshments were sold there to a large patronage. Cards, checkers, dominos and chess were provided in the small game room, while billiards or pool in the main assembly room were featured during the day and evening.

Just before 8 o'clock in the evening, Dr. Leon A. Sikkenga, Vice Commander of the Post, introduced State Vice Commander Edwin S. Anthoine of Portland, who delivered an interesting and instructive address on "The American Legion, Its Purpose and Ideals, and Its Place in the Community." The gold Waltham watch awarded by the sale of numbered pencils, went to Joseph Boulier. Dr. Fred E. Drake and Z. L. Merchant were in charge of this exciting contest.

The lodge room was cleared and dancing was enjoyed until midnight. Anderson's Orchestra furnished excellent music. A regular army lunch was served at a late hour by the star cooks or mess sergeants formerly with outfits overseas. The army chefs were Scott Palmer, Orville "Bushy" Palmer, Alfred Dyer and others.

Hard digging caused a postponement of the outdoor flag raising until later. The Legion is all set with a staff and large flag for appropriate exercises when balmy weather reaches us.

The boys have a home-like headquarters with appropriate fittings. They have a large lodge room with an up-to-date kitchen adjoining; a large assembly room includes a corner for the reading table, and the beginnings of a war museum. The billiard table is also there. A smaller room has been set apart and furnished for cards and other light weight games.

The office adjoins the assembly room and a telephone. Steam heats all except the lodge room. Plans are under way to enlarge the plant and remove the box stove which is in use there.

The local Post is growing rapidly in membership and the public is beginning to sit up and take notice of an organization that means so much to the service men and to the community.

Norway Hello Girls' Dance

The line was busy at Norway Opera House, Friday evening, during the benefit dance arranged by the "hello girls" of the Maine Telephone & Telegraph Co., Norway exchange. Not less than one hundred and fifty patrons danced to the snappy music of Shaw's Jazz Orchestra, six pieces of South Paris, and a good number of spectators occupied seats in the balcony. Many from surrounding towns were in the crowd.

As an informal time was advertised, the patrons were agreeably surprised to find the hall tastefully decorated with spruce branches and streamers of blue and white crepe paper. A pleasing light effect was given the scene by subtlety of blue incandescents around the balcony. Spruce, fir and other winter foliage was banked before the footlights on the stage, while colored streamers suspended from the chandelier in the center of the hall, radiating to the balcony, like spokes in a wheel. The light fixtures around the hall were bedecked with evergreen and colored paper.

A large white bell suspended from the center of the paper wheel was symbolical of the "Bell" service. The orchestra appeared in white and blue "stove pipe" hats and blue bow neckties.

A little out of the ordinary was the order of dances displayed in white letters on a large bell, reproduced from the well known blue sign, the "Bell System." This occupied a conspicuous place on one side of the stage and no dance orders were used.

Charles C. Wood, manager of the local exchange, was floor manager, and his assistants were Mrs. Charles Wood, Viola Walton, Mrs. Pansy Paragard, Mrs. Charles Billings, Caroline Schott, Grace Welch and Mona Martin. Everybody was kept moving and the lines were busy until late hour. The hello girls just would not let the show slacken, the orchestra was game so the dance went merrily on.

A surprise was put over during the last waltz before "You need a rest" (intermission). A moonlight effect was produced, then came a sudden shower of confetti and paper streamers that tangled the dancers and caused much merriment. A bunch of operators stationed in the balcony were responsible for this landslide.

The party was a financial success, nearly sixty dollars being clear profit for the rest room soon to be opened near Central in the I. O. O. F. This room will be completely furnished and used by the operators during the hours of duty. Other social events may be arranged later, as funds may be needed to extend the accommodations.

Viola Walton and Grace Welch were "chief operators" in this affair. Mrs. Annie Thomas Prince handled the box office, Mrs. Charles Funtun collected pasteboards for dancing and Grace Welch handled the balcony.

Dallas Benson of East Oxford was in town Monday, talking show business for next summer. His Lone Star Wild West show will be greatly enlarged and many features added to the program. He will carry 800 feet side wall for the arena and a large round top for dressing rooms and shelter. The show is to be motorized with an advance advertising truck one week ahead. Exhibitions will be given in a large ring with "blues" set up around it for the program.

The show is already booked on one route for three weeks. Norway High school basketball team go to Bridgton Academy, Friday afternoon, for a game in the evening. Both the boys and girls play a return game at this time and a pleasant trip is anticipated. Probably other students will make the trip with the teams if traveling remains good.

Mrs. Iva Rowell of Bangor has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Russell and attended the Operators' Ball.

MAINE IS READY

Will you share in its prosperity?

MAINE faces an era of prosperity. It will come because America is headed for a period of active competition between manufacturers of different sections of the country—New England against New York, New York against the South, the South against the West. It will be a period in which a cent of profit will take the place of the ten or twenty cent profit that manufacturers secured through the war.

Through this impending period of keen competition, the State that has developed water power to offer will get the factories and make the goods.

Maine now has this advantage—her water power is ready.

Central Maine Power Company has not only looked to the future but it has gone ahead and built the dams and installed the generators. It has this power ready NOW.

Any industry on Central Maine Power Company's far-spreading lines can today have 100 horse power—or 10,000.

Maine, with power ready now, ought in good time to be a wealthier, busier, more prosperous place. This ready-now water power ought to make the Pine Tree State a great and growing community, with lower taxes and more dollars.

The people of Maine have made this development of power financially possible, largely of late through the purchase of Central Maine Power Co. 7 per cent. Preferred Stock.

To pay for the two new units now being installed in Skowhegan and for necessary transmission lines, etc., the Company is offering and selling rapidly 10,000 shares of 7 per cent. preferred stock. The price is $107.50 a share, the yield 6½ per cent. net. If you are interested to know more about this stock, why not use the coupon?

WOULDN'T TAKE $500.00 FOR GOOD

Maine Man Had Been Going Down Hill For Twelve Years Before Taking Tanlac

"No, sir, five hundred dollars wouldn't buy the good Tanlac has done me," said Wilfred E. Reed, of Sabattus, Me., a painter in the employ of the Hill Mfg. Company of Lewiston.

"I hadn't felt well in some twelve years and each year had been getting worse. Then three years ago I was operated on and after that I couldn't get my strength back. I went down hill rapidly and fell off so much in weight that I got so I couldn't work regularly. I would work for two or three weeks and then have to lay off for a month."

"My appetite went back on me and my stomach got so disordered that I had to live nearly on nothing. I had pains all through my stomach and would bloat up something awful. I was shaky all over, felt completely run down and my nerves seemed to stay wrought up all the time. I would lie awake for hours worrying over my condition and over not being able to work, I had just about reached my limit and knew that I couldn't make it much longer unless something was done."

"I commenced taking Tanlac," as I saw it so highly recommended, and I began to feel the benefits before I finished half of the first bottle. My appetite returned, my stomach stopped bothering me and I picked up five pounds in two weeks. I was soon back at work and have not missed a day now in three months, something I could not have done last year to save my life. I sleep sound now, my nerves are good and steady, in fact I am feeling fine and am never troubled in any way whatever."

Tanlac is sold by A. L. Clark Drug Co.

FIRELIGHT

Come, sit thee in the firelight
And bask in its ruddy glow,
And dream of days that are Thine lived in the long ago,
When every cloud was silver,
Backed by a roseate hue,
And Hope's bright star shone out Midst shadows of Laurel and Yew.
Mother Nature calls from the hillside:
Her tones round our hearthstrings creep,
"Tis time that 'Tis time that 'Tis time
The elms and oaks are green,
So sit thee in the firelight,
Watch the brightness come and go;
Voices, joy and sorrow, all Sweet echoes of long ago.
Midst the gathering twilight shadows,
Thou wilt glimpse holy, hallowed ground,
And the dream of the faithful shepherds,
Watching the "Stars" bright glow,
Will come stealing softly in,
As the loving Presence draws near,
And 'Tis time that 'Tis time that 'Tis time
Thou needst have naught to fear.
The hour spent in the glowing
Will give strength and healing balm,
And the beautiful, the beautiful
Will wrap thee in Holy calm,
Yes, sit thee in the firelight,
'Tis the ruler of the year,
Thee'll awaken to joyous music,
Glad dreams of Christmas cheer,
Merrily, M. A. E. K. GROVER,

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Vote of sympathy for the widow, children and relatives of the late worthy Brother George A. Miller.
Dear Mountain Grange Lodge No. 62 has, during the last year, known what it is to be bereaved (three deaths) of some of its active, faithful and worthy members. Death, who is neither a respecter of persons nor time, has, at the beginning of this year again, taken from our midst a brother whose life was a life of service to his fellow men, and the bloom of youth is even now coming out on his face, and dial of time, has, with its stern, cold and relentless hand, taken from us, one of our own number, one of our own, who, reminding us of the frailty of human nature, the uncertainty of human life, and the certainty of death.

The late brother George A. Miller, who was buried Thursday, Jan. 12, of this year, has passed to the great beyond—he has crossed the bar, and has thus taken leave of his worries, anxieties, as well as the excruciating pains he endured with such fortitude and courage. Life did we all realize that he was so near the end of his earthly journey. But, this reminds us of the words of our Lord and Master, "Be not the hour, the Son of Man cometh." The citizens of this town, have, in the death of Brother Miller suffered a great loss. Living here so many years, a man whose practical ability, and activity made him heard and felt, and thus, to become acquainted with the town and fraternal activities. He had, to a high degree, won the confidence and respect of his fellow men. As a well and fully tried Granger of many years standing—yes, as a Good Patron, he placed faith in God, he embraced the Christian religion, and he exercised the Spirit of Brotherly love, planting a flower and uprooting a thorn along the path of life. And all who knew him could, of a truth, say, that as a Granger he was noted for fidelity. He endeavored to be true to the obligations of the Grange, he honored by his presence and helped by his ready speech, and willing hand and heart.

Be it resolved, that the Bear Mountain Grange Lodge, No. 62, of this year, the widow, children and relatives of the deceased brother, our profoundest and sincerest sympathy, together with the consolation of the deceased brother, and Saviour Jesus Christ affords to the bereaved and sorrowful.
Resolved, that any of these Resolutions be sent to the widow of the deceased brother, and also a copy be sent to the Norway Advertiser, and also that a copy of this sympathy be placed on the Recording Book of this Lodge.

ROBERT E. JONES,
C. S. HAMILTON,
EMMA F. SAUNDERS,
Committee on Resolutions.
So, Waterford, Feb. 2, 1921.

The Lure of BIRTH STONES

FEBRUARY

A keener pleasure may be taken in wearing the amethyst, the birthstone of February, if one knows the following myth: Bacchus became enamored of a mortal, Amythyst, as she was on her way to worship at the shrine of Diana. He pursued the frightened maiden, and as he was about to capture her, Diana turned her into a pure white stone. Bacchus, then, repeating his boldness, poured wine as a libation over the petrified maiden, giving to the stone the deep violet hue that is like the wine itself solidified.

WOMAN SUFFERED IN SILENCE

Made Believe She Was Well

"A woman of New Auburn, Maine, writes: 'There must be lots of women who feel as I did. I suffered in silence many times on account of my pains, but now I know that a good laxative is essential to good health. I pretend I was all right when I wasn't. I had terrible pains, was 'grouchy' and my headaches almost killed me with pain, and worst of all I had a salivary, unbecoming complexion which was not helped by face powders. Why didn't I try to cure myself, rather than pretend? After taking Dr. True's Elixir, I now know that a laxative is what I needed. Dr. True's Elixir is mild and pleasant to take, and works just right for me. My complexion cleared up—bright and rosy—blemishes vanished, and every one remarked how much better I looked.' Mrs. E. J. B. (New Auburn, Me.)."

Dr. True's Elixir will help you too, don't pretend any longer.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

New Oxford County Agent

Oxford County is not to be long without a county agent and Farm Bureau field executive. The vacancy occasioned by the resignation of George A. Yeaton is to be filled by appointment of Raymond H. Lovejoy, who is just completing his agricultural course at the University of Maine.

Mr. Lovejoy is not only a high class student, but he has had a lot of experience in farming. He was born on a farm at Industry, Franklin county. The son of an apple buyer and packer, he took naturally to horticulture, and fruit culture has been his major subject in college. He has done practical work in orcharding, been employed at various lines of farming and following his graduation from high school at New Sharon had charge of a dairy farm where 20 head of cattle were kept. His freshman year in college he worked on a dairy farm at Orono.

When agricultural students were released, in the spring of 1917, to assist in food production, he hired and operated a farm, and the following year bought a farm at New Sharon, which he has since sold. For a year he was principal of the high school at Flagstaff. After that he was sales manager for a business house of national reputation, his duties taking him into agricultural communities throughout New England, New York and some of the southern states. Last year though a much larger salary was offered him to continue with that company, he returned to Orono to complete his college course. He is a member of the honorary fraternity, Alpha Zeta, treasurer of the Agricultural Club and assistant business manager of the paper published by the agricultural students. In 1917 he was a member of the Varsity debating team.

Mr. Lovejoy is 29 years of age. His wife was formerly Retta E. Cobb of New Sharon, taught school in Maine several years. He expects to begin his duties as county agent the latter part of February.

Joel Allard

The community was shocked Saturday morning, January 29, when it was learned that Joel Allard, an aged citizen, had passed away the night before. He had been in his usual good health. In fact, he never suffered sickness and had never employed a physician in his long life. It was his custom to take a nap on the couch in the evening and even indulging in a smoke before retiring for the night, and the evening before his death he was enjoying his nap when his son, Orlando, went to the kitchen for a drink of water before retiring, but on arising in the morning, found his father had passed to the great unknown still lying where he had been the night before, without seeking his bed.

He has been a resident of this place for nearly sixty years, having been born in Albany, N. H. seventy-eight years ago. He married Phoebe C. Elliott of this place who passed away August 17, 1914. HOW WOMEN AVOID SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Some Are Extremely Necessary, Others May Not Be

Every Woman Should Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Trial First.

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It will write to any one who wants a personal letter." Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 6824 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Vermont woman adds her testimony to the long line of those fortunate women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Compound, after it had been decided an operation was necessary:

Burlington, Vt.—"I suffered with female trouble, and had a number of doctors who said that I would never be any better until I had an operation. I was so bad I could hardly walk across the floor and could not do a thing. My sister-in-law induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it certainly has helped me wonderfully. I keep house and do my work and have a small child. I have recommended Vegetable Compound to a number of my friends and you may publish my testimonial." Mrs. H. R. SHARON, Apple Tree Point Farm, Burlington, Vt.

In hospitals are many women who are there for surgical operations, and there is nothing a woman dreads more than the thought of an operation, and the long weary months of recovery and restoration to strength if it is successful.

It is very true that female troubles may through neglect reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but most of the common ailments of women are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Infact, many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

saves him from going back over the road by Leon Kimball's and climbing the long hill by David and Ingalls McAllister's.

The gray squirrels are very plentiful this winter and quite tame as they come very close to the houses and barns, and are frequently seen in the orchards, skimming along through the treetops from one tree to another in search of apples which have been left on the trees.

Crab apples seem to be their favorite.
They will go from one tree to another and leave them until they find the crab apples when they fill their mouths and then flash out from among the branches to the ground, and scamper off up the hillsides until they reach the woods, and there feast at leisure.

Old Fashioned Spelling Match
The beautiful moonlight we had, Saturday night, Jan. 23, recalled to us the old fashioned spelling school which used to be so common. One school would challenge another to “come on if you dare and we will spell you down.” We remember in our home school a good many, who could hardly be beaten in that way and in another adjoining school were many others, some of the larger ones, boys, all ready to enter the State Normal school.
Spelling in those days was spelling and not guesswork.

One night, on just such another night as Saturday night, our school went, a jolly crowd, of which we didn't have autos then—some miles to spell down the challengers. In our school was a small undersized girl whose one talent was spelling.
On this night the sides were chosen by the captains and one after another all went down with the exception of this girl and the champion speller of the other school. The master gave word after word but both stood the test. The rules then allowed only one try and of course if he failed that gave the other another chance. Finally the master put the word “precedent” and the boy spelled it with an “s”, whereupon the girl quickly spelled it correctly and there was such a shout of victory for our school.

There used to be in our old spellers two lines of words pronounced alike and spelled differently. Among them were the two words, “complacence” and “complaisance,” and it was on the latter word she went down, but defended herself by saying it was a French word and should have had the pronunciation with the accent on the last part.

As our book did not give it that way she was ruled out with a good many objections on her part. Those old spelling schools were good practice and many of us perhaps were more thorough in that line than we should have been had it not been for the ambition to stand long in the line and not go down before our rival.

of the passing away of Ahira Smith, on

BATES—WEST PARIS

Earle T. Hollis. Mention was made in last week's issue of the death of Earle T. Hollis. A more complete account is due to the memory of this fine young man scarce 21 years of age and full of promise. He was in the class of 1918, the first to graduate from W. P. H. S. The graduating class' final number was ten. One, Herbert Gardner, died January 20 before, and Lora Ross has died since, with Earle, now makes the gone out of the first W. P. H. S. class.

He was a smart student and a general favorite with both teachers and schoolmates. He was one of the winners in the first prize speaking contest and his ready wit and humorous talent won for him the part of Presentation of Gifts in the commencement exercises. Since then he has spent the greater part of his time on the farm with his parents excepting a few months last year when he clerked in the dry goods store of Brown, Buck & Co. at Norway.

He was a member of West Paris Grange where his occasional humorous selections were greatly enjoyed. He was the Steward elect for the ensuing year, but was sick and unable to be present at the installation the Saturday before his death.

He had the mumps in the fall, followed by many boils and finally a carbuncle on his chin. An operation was advised and Dr. Webster, accompanied by a trained nurse, Dr. Loviston, assisted by Dr. Wheeler, gave it surgical treatment Jan. 21st, but with the best of care he failed fast and died suddenly of blood poisoning at 2 A. M., Monday, Jan. 24.

Funeral services were held at the home at 1 P. M., Wednesday, the 26th. Rev. H. H. Hathaway spoke sympathetically from the text in Isa. 66:13, "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you." The bearers were Earle Bacon, William Littlehale, Leland Coffin, Chester McAllister, and internment was in West Sumner cemetery, W. P. H. S. opened an hour earlier in the morning and held by one session that day, that the students might attend the funeral in a body. A beautiful floral piece was given by them and another "Gates Ajar" from West Paris friends. There were many other beautiful flowers.

Earle Thomas Hollis was the son of A. Thomas and Emma (Ryerson) Hollis and was born December 1, 1900 on a farm in the north part of the town of Paris. Besides his parents, he leaves one brother, Carl, a student in W. P. H. S. and three sisters, Mrs. Lois; wife of J. S. Abbott of North Paris, Mrs. Etta Chase of Auburn, and Elizabeth, the youngest, at home. He has many friends, also who will miss him and their sympathies go out to the bereaved family.

The drama "Aaron Slick from Punkin' Creek" presented last week, Wednesday, by the Rebekahs, was successful and very funny. The hall was packed full even to all the standing room. The specialties between acts were a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Briggs, a solo by Mrs. Briggs of Mechanic Falls, a violin solo by Margaret Lane accompanied by Helen Packard, and the cabaret scene. The third act was sort of special since it took in a number of young people extra who were not of the cast who simply made the scene in action and Nellie Nickerson played a small, though a very amusing side act with Aaron Slick all of which added a good lot to the play. Mr. Kahagan, one of the young men who are here employed by the Electric Light Co., sang a solo. Pulsifer's Orchestra of Lewiston, furnished the music before and after the play. The Rebekahs played this same drama at West Sumner Friday night and are going to Bryant's Pond this week, Friday.

Sunday was Young People's Christian Union day at the Universalist Church and the young people took charge of the services.

Augustus S. Dunham is ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. F. Barden, where he makes his home. His other daughter, Mrs. Jennie Currier of Bryant's Pond is here helping to care for him.

Nellie Marshall, the nurse from New York, was here a day or two last week to visit her sister, Mrs. C. E. Stearns, and other relatives.

Harold Hollis, who has been sick with a hard grip cold, is out again.

Mrs. Frank Briggs of Portland visited her mother, Mrs. Sara Curtis, a day or two last week.

Mrs. A. E. Baldwin of Portland visited her father, A. E. Marshall and family last week. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Cooper of Norway are visiting there this week.

Dr. F. E. Wheeler accompanied A. D. Andrews of North Paris to the C. M. G. Hospital, Lewiston, where he had a piece of bone removed from the leg he so severely injured two years ago, which has never entirely healed; also Gertrude Robbins of Sumner who broke her arm more than two months ago, since her return she has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. Bert Day, while she received further treatment.

Sixteen from this Grange attended Pomona at Bryant's Pond, Tuesday.

ALLEN—WEST BETHEL

WORD FROM ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.

Following is a letter written in Central Park on Jan. 13th, 1921, by Mrs. S. I. Jackson.

"We thank you for the Advertiser that came, Monday, also for your letter inviting us to write about the home folks here. We have read Mr. Seavey's account of his trip down by auto and his trouble with the southern roads on the way. As we read the items from Millettville in last week's issue we had a good smile at their idea of 'Florida mud,' thinking their sleighing preferable! Bless them, we don't know what m-u-d spells here in St. Petersburg!"

"It rains so seldom here that the water when it does fall sinks out of sight almost at once. The soil here is sandy and couldn't make mud any way. Why, the laws here are all set out. You can't sow grass seed and make a lawn, you just set out the little tufts of natural grass (that runs wild) in rows about six inches apart, and then you have to water it and keep it wet down with the hose. Gradually you will see it growing green, and filling in between the rows for it runs along taking root every few inches like a strawberry bed. It is very coarse, too. There is a Bermuda grass here much finer, but it isn't so desirable as the sun gives it a burnt dead look."

"The avenues here, which run east and west to Tampa Bay, intersect the streets which run north and south. The city is laid out much like New York in that way."

"Central Ave. divides the streets north from south, it is like the Broadway especially at night, when all lit up, it looks like a miniature 'Great White Way.' All the banks, hotels of importance, gift shops every other door, and stores of all sorts are on Central Ave. The sidewalks are very, very wide on either side; one half next the stores is laid in hexagonal cement blocks. The other half is sand out to the curb, with green painted settees all along, accommodating 5 people each, where one may rest and watch the gay throngs go by."

"All the streets and avenues are similar, lawns 10 ft. or more, then sidewalk 6 feet, cement paved, then more lawn 8 to 10 ft. to curb. This is set out with a long palm of every description from the date to the fan palms, and here and there a stately Australian Eucalyptus for shade, with once in a while a banana palm. The lawns next the houses have fruit trees and flowering shrubs. Central Ave. is so wide that electric cars run thru center with one way auto traffic on each side, and no way of auto either side. Each side is parked nose in, on a slant, a space for each car is outlined by a white mark on the brick paving. All avenues and streets are brick-paved within the city limits. So you see our city doesn't know what mud is."

"The climate here is wonderful, why, I rode down Central Ave. on the evening of Jan. 8th in an auto without any wraps. We had been on the electric that afternoon out to the 'Jungle,' a natural tropical forest, very interesting to see. The great palm trees were over our vines so dense that one would have to cut their way through. There was a large wall there with a superb taste and smell. Our little girl said, 'How can you drink it, Papa, it smells like bad eggs.'"

"There was a small pier at the end of the car line and we took a motor boat here to Coney Island and Mitchell Beach. It was not like the Coney Island New York boasts of! It is just a good bathing beach where we gathered the oddest collection of shells, large and small. There is a hotel here and many cottages. I forgot to say that it was Boera Siega Bay that we crossed in the motor boat, and the other side of this island was on the Gulf of Mexico. Think of it, we were in making on Jan. 8th in the Gulf of Mexico, gathering shells, sponges and pieces of pretty coral, with no wraps on, just summer clothing."

"You have noticed by my letter heading that I am sitting in the park writing this letter. It is very warm, but always have the most delightful breeze off Tampa Bay. The trees here in the park are very tall, and about 12-18 in. through. They have a small spatulate leaf generally, though you will find branches with leaves similar to our northern ones on the same tree. All the leaves have a tiny thorn-like on the points."

"The trees are draped with festoons of long, soft greenish grey moss which gives the park a very picturesque look. There is a large shell-shaped auditorium which serves as megaphones here where lectures are given free to the public. There are seats for thousands, with others all about the park, around the sporting quarters, too."

"They play dominoes, checkers, chess, roque (like our croquet some), and 'barnyard golf' known up north as 'pitching horse-shoes.' Next week the band concerts begin here in the park when we shall hear all the celebrated bands of the U. S. bands of."

"The flowers here are very beautiful from the showy crimson Poinsettias and the bright Flame Vine, so called from its profusion of yellowish trumpet-shaped flowers running rampant over the trees and buildings, down through the different kinds of Hibiscus, orange, red and dainty pink blossoms, single and double, to the tiny little waxy white Jasmines known for its delicate fragrance. The roses here are as beautiful as our expensive hot house ones up north. The dainty yellow tea roses climb up over the veranda as strong as our ramblers."

"The fruits here—they alone would tempt you to stay on! There are the grape fruit, oranges—and by the way, we have heard in the stores up there of the Naval and Florida oranges—well, we find both growing here in Florida, bananas—we have been through a large banana grove, very odd and interesting to see on the trees. Kumquats, taste like a lemon, skin like an orange, pulp shaped, we haven't learned to like them yet. Loquat plums, Guavas with skin like a pear, taste of wild strawberries, and the Avocado pears, most delicious and large, the Mangoes, like a peach in flavor but greenish looking, the tangerines or kid glove oranges; the Paw Paws, golden colored pear shaped fruit as large as small pumpkins, growing in clusters on trees and used like pumpkins for pies; strawberries (for short cakes) right from the gardens in January."

"They have large truck gardens further out on big tracks of black mud-land well ditched for drainage. We have walked out to see them growing like June gardens up home. Three feet under these gardens is water all the time. The celery was white—they bank it with tar paper to bleach it. Every kind of vegetable is raised."

"We have also walked out and visited a large dairy farm with herd of Jerseys."

They raise fodder corn and fill silos for grain feed, buy some hay and plenty of grain from west.

"Well I could write on and on but not tell half. Mr. Jackson goes fishing from the piers where they catch all sorts of small and medium fish with lines and spears. Later he is going deep sea fishing and expects some sport. We plan to take in the big State Fair in Tampa, next month, and some other trips. There, I have written of this wonderful city instead of home folks who are here. I went to the Maine State Society, last night, and when Oxford County was called there were only three of us to stand! Dennis Pike, who arrived last Saturday, by Norfolk boat route from Boston looking some tired; Tony Young, looking just as usual, and myself. Mr. Jackson said I was to go first and if worth while he'd go next time. Of course, like all Maine affairs it was very enjoyable. I met people who knew Norway people so it seemed like a visit home."

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Clark were there. They have sort of taken Norway people under their wing at first, being old tourists here, as Mr. Pike and we folks can testify. After the meeting last night we had all invited to visit the new home of the St. Petersburg Times, one of the big dailies here. We went through from office up to type room and down to press room where twenty-four thousand copies are run off folded in just one-half hour. The manager invited us to stay or come back at 4 a. m. and see it done. They were cleaning the press then. The huge rolls of paper in the store room from Lisbon, Brazil, and other places. After seeing the molds made and the type machines at work I had more respect for newspaper which look so simple from the news boys' hands, but I will leave it for Mr. Young to go into details when he writes you. We are looking for Frank Noyes' name and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hubbard soon on the directory. With kind regards from Mr. Jackson and myself, MRS. S. I. JACKSON.
